Part X, Line 2:

CFB is exempt from federal and state income taxes under the Federal Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") Section 510(c)(3) and Arizona income tax laws and is classified as other than a private foundation under IRC

Section 509(a)(1). CFB also qualifies for the charitable contribution deduction under IRC Section 170(b)(1)(a). AVZ is a single-member limited liability company which is a disregarded entity for income tax purposes.

Management has considered its tax positions in accordance with the accounting standard for uncertainty in income taxes and believes that all of the positions taken in its federal and state exempt organization tax returns are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. In addition, Management is not aware of any matters which would cause the Organization to lose its tax-exempt status. The Organizations's returns are subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three years and four years, respectively, after they are filed.

Should the Organization ever be subject to interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits, they would be classified in management and general expenses in its accompanying financial statements. During the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, the Organization did not recognize any interest and penalties.

All grants are awarded based on the grantee's capacity to carry out the project, financial soundness of the organization and the specific criteria of the grant. During the current year we had two grant initiatives - Thriving Communities Grants and discretionary awards. Our Thriving Communities Grants open annually and are given to organizations and community groups working in our 5-county service area whose impact on the community compliments the Food Bank's mission to feed the hungry today, and build a healthy, hunger-free tomorrow. These awards are designed to support partners in addressing various aspects of food security, community health, social justice, and the root causes of hunger. We provided a lesser number of discretionary grant awards to partner agencies experiencing an emergency. All applications for grants are reviewed by multiple staff members. Thriving Communities Grants are awarded within a determined grant period, whereas discretionary grants are awarded as needed throughout the year. All grantees sign a grant agreement and are required to submit a report at the end of the grant period detailing project outcomes, learnings, and verifying project completion.

Sch I, Part III, Line 1

The Organization uses a proprietary software program to track receipt of non-cash grants by individuals. The State sets parameters for eligibility for certain programs which the Organization also tracks through specialized software. The Organization uses monitoring to track non-cash grants used by its agencies. This monitoring covers both requirements of the granting agency and those imposed by the Organization itself. Monitoring is logged in paper and electronic files, depending on the requirement.

(CSFP) unique individuals were served through our two major USDA programs: The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP) and the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP). These figures now exceed the level of service provided before the pandemic for these programs.

Health disparities can largely be attributed to unequal access to healthy foods, in which socio-economic factors such as race, gender, income, and location of residence play a role. For food insecure populations, lack of access to healthy food often results in a wide variety of negative health outcomes like increased incidence and prevalence of diabetes, poor management of certain behavioral conditions, and social isolation. Our health and food efforts work across our service area to provide nutritious, culturally relevant foods to those who are experiencing hunger and adverse health outcomes.

Our community health care partnerships help advance regional policy and have the potential to inform national policy.
